HIGHEST RATES RECORD OF DRY COCOON CROP IN JAMMU PROVINCE

The Sericulture Dev. Department, Jammu has distributed 17800 ounces of silkworm seed to about 20010 Nos farmers in various districts of Jammu Province for rearing during Spring and Late Spring 2013. The cocoon crop production of the supplied silkworm seed is expected to be more than 600 M. Tonnes. "The sale of cocoon crop produced by the farmers starts in the month of May 2013 from Cocoon Auction Market, Jammu District and upto date five districts has been covered namely Jammu, Samba, Kathua, Rajouri and Poonch Districts where 3.80 lac kgs of Cocoon crop has been transacted and the farmers earned an amount of Rs 705.00 lacs with an average rate of Rs 556/- per kg of dry cocoons of all the grades against Rs 395/- of the last year average rates. The increase in cocoon crop price was due to the introduction of high technology in production of silkworm seed i.e supply of double hybrids silkworm seed. The cocoons harvested by rearing of double hybrids silkworm seed having more contents of silk with SR %age 22 to 24. A number of 50 to 60 Nos cocoon buyers both from outside the state and local has been participated in different dry cocoon auction markets organized by the department. Out of the above, 06 cocoon buyers within the state participated in the auctioning process. The market wise cocoon crop transacted and the income generated by the farmers in Jammu Division is as under:-
