

Ex-army chief threatens to put documents in public domain

NEW DELHI, July 25: Former Army Chief V K Singh has threatened to put in public domain all documents related to his claim of a Rs 14 crore bribe offer made by a retired officer to clear a tranche of "sub-standard" vehicles, if CBI fails to pursue the case. "Let CBI say they are not going to pursue the case and I will put it out (in public domain) immediately and I am quite sure," Gen (ret'd) Singh told a news channel, when asked if he was willing to put the documents in public domain.(PTI)
