Modi anointed BJP Poll Panel Chairman, calls for India free of Congress

ings. Honoured and extremely grateful to receive his blessings."

"Senior leaders have reposed faith in me. We will leave no stone unturned for Congress-mukt Bharat nirman (building India free of Congress). Thanks for support and blessings," he said in another tweet message.

Today's decision of BJP could also be seen as a gamble to perk up the party's prospects after its defeat in two consecutive Lok Sabha elections.

Throughout the whole of yesterday, there was media speculation that the party could defer an announcement on Modi. One version was that Advani wanted that Modi should be made head of the campaign for the Assembly elections, including in states like Madhya Pradesh and Chhattisgarh, later this year.

Party sources said Singh resolved the dilemma after it was felt the meeting should not conclude without a "result" as it would lead to demoralisation of the cadre. Hence, the announcement was made, they said.

The announcement of Modi's elevation towards the end of Singh's valedictory address at the National Executive session was received with cheers and standing ovation. One of the delegates said there was clapping for five minutes as a signal of acceptance of the decision on Modi.

Addressing the rally, Rajnath Singh demanded resignation of Prime Minister Dr Manmohan Singh contending that the CBI probe into coal block allocation pointed a finger at him.

Rajnath Singh wondered how a Prime Minister against whom allegations of corruption have been levelled can be a source of inspiration.

He accused Congress of giving slogans for eliminating poverty and unemployment but not fulfilling its poll promises.

"Congress has been in power for a maximum number of years post Independence. How much more time does it want to eliminate poverty and unemployment," the BJP President asked.

Jaitley said Modi's elevation in the party has encouraged workers to work hard towards achieving the goal of ousting Congress from power.

"Rajnath Singh's decision has given a new dimension to politics," he said, adding the elevation of Modi was a good beginning.

"Our goal is to oust Congress and form BJP-led Government at the Centre...Well begun is half done," Jaitley said.

Modi attacked the UPA Government at the Centre and said the country needed to be free from Congress rule.

He accused Congress of taking people for granted and adopting a "non-serious" approach towards governance.

Modi said Congress did not believe in democratic institutions and was in no mood to accept the federal structure of the Constitution.

He claimed that the Congress established a National Advisory Council chaired by Sonia Gandhi to function over and above the Planning Commission.

"There was a time when Congress was in power from panchayat to Parliament. But when it began losing power in states, it never allowed other parties to complete their tenure in Government by misusing Article 356 (for imposing Central rule). At times it triggered defection in opposition parties and also turned Raj Bhavans (Governor's residence) into Congress Bhavans," Modi claimed.

Shortly after he was anointed BJP's 2014 poll campaign chairman, Modi spoke to a sulking L. K Advani and claimed that the party veteran had given him his blessings.

63-year-old Modi also declared that he would leave no stone unturned to oust Congress from power in the Centre.

"Spoke to Advaniji on the phone. He gave me his blessings. Honoured and extremely grateful to receive his blessings," Modi tweeted minutes after he was appointed by BJP as chairman of its campaign committee for the 2014 Lok Sabha elections.

"Senior leaders have reposed faith in me. We will leave no stone unturned for Congress-mukt Bharat Nirman. Thanks for support & blessings," Modi said.

Meanwhile, in a scathing attack on Congress-led UPA, BJP today said rampant corruption, policy paralysis especially on economic issues, two power centres in the ruling dispensation and tampering with constitutional institutions has led to the present "dismal" situation in the country.

In a strongly-worded Political Resolution passed by the BJP at its National Executive Meet here, the main opposition said people are fed up of the UPA and called itself the only viable and credible alternative to the present regime.

BJP took on the Congress-led Government on three main issues: "obnoxious corruption; degradation of the economy; and a malignant assault on the federal spirit of our polity".

The party said UPA-II had no achievements to show on completion of its four years in office last month.

Maintaining that there is a defective structure of leadership in the UPA, BJP charged that Prime Minister Dr Manmohan Singh is "merely in office and not in authority".

Real powers of policy making are vested in Congress President Sonia Gandhi, it said.

The resolution, which was moved by former BJP President Nitin Gadkari, said the resultant indecision, inability and silence of the Prime Minister in the last nine years is at great cost to the country.

Corruption, as seen in a series of scams including coal-gate, 2G spectrum and Commonwealth Games or the Agusta Westland helicopter deal, have led to a huge loss to the country, the resolution said, adding that Prime Minister Dr Manmohan Singh cannot be absolved of all corruption as the controversial coal block allocations were done when he was the coal minister.

He was also reportedly aware of the manner in which the 2G spectrum allocations were being made, it alleged.

BJP also alleged that the Government has "deliberately and consistently" weakened the democratic institutions and interfered in the functioning of their functioning be it the Election Commission, CVC, NHRC or CAG.

The main Opposition incorporated its comments on the state of the economy in the Political resolution in this conclave.

It said growth has slipped from 8.3 per cent during NDA rule to a "miserable" 5 per cent today.

It expressed concern over the "whiplash" of unemployment and paralysis in decision-making.

There is reverse flight in investment, and job creation has taken a big hit.

The right-wing party also said women are not safe under UPA rule and gender atrocity has become the order of the day.

In such a scenario, people want to throw out this Government and the only credible alternative in front of them is the BJP-led NDA.

An amendment to the resolution was brought by BJP National Executive member and Chief spokesperson J&K, Dr Jitendra Singh who said that while Congress ruled States and UPA at Centre unleashed a culture of corruption across the country even in the States where Congress is in coalition or supporting the ruling Party it has directly or indirectly.

He said even in J&K which has earned the dubious distinction of being number one state in corruption in the country, the Congress Party has maintained a silence of conspiracy to allow continuance of Omar Abdullah led coalition in the State on the directives of 10 Janpath which is a serious phenomenon for the sensitive State affected by terrorism.

"While Congress in New Delhi is fountain head of the corruption it has directly or indirectly promoted corruption in other States where it is singly handedly ruling or is in coalition with other parties," Dr Jitendra Singh added.

Gujarat Chief Minister Narendra Modi's appointment today as chief of BJP's

Election Campaign Committee drew a muted response from key ally JD-U which said it is an "internal matter" of that party but was enthusiastically welcomed by other allies SAD and Shiv Sena.

Apparently playing down the elevation of Modi over whom it had reservations, JD-U, the BJP's senior partner in Bihar's ruling coalition, at the same time insisted that the NDA's Prime Ministerial candidate will be decided by all constituents of the alliance.

"What BJP decides is that party's internal matter. Whom they make the party president or chairman of a particular committee in their party is what concerns them."

"He (Modi) has not become NDA's campaign committee chairman," JD-U President Sharad Yadav told reporters over phone from Chennai.

Yadav, who is also NDA convenor, at the same time, said that NDA functioned for 17 years according to its national agenda and "whoever becomes the PM candidate has to accept that national agenda".

He said that NDA's PM candidate will be decided in NDA after BJP declares its candidate.

"BJP will decide its PM candidate and then it will be brought up before NDA. NDA's PM candidate will be decided by NDA, with BJP and all its constituents," Yadav said, indicating that his party's reservations on Modi as BJP's PM candidate continues.

JD-U's and, in particular, Bihar Chief Minister Nitish Kumar's antipathy towards Modi is well-known.

"He (Modi) has been made chairman of the BJP's poll campaign committee, not the NDA's," said senior JD (U) leader Devesh Chandra Thakur.

Echoing Yadav's views, Thakur said Modi's new responsibility was an internal matter of the BJP. "BJP president Rajnath Singh has assured us that NDA allies would be consulted before any decision on the NDA's PM nominee. That's good enough for us," he told reporters.

Shiromani Akali Dal supremo and Punjab Chief Minister Parkash Singh Badal described as a "master-stroke" Modi's appointment and said it was a knockout punch against a "staggering" UPA Government.

"This has already sent shock-waves in the UPA and completely demoralised it, as is borne out by nervous reactions of their leaders," he said in a statement.

SAD leader and Deputy Chief Minister Sukhbir Singh Badal said the decision would be "catalytic" in the alliance's victory march in the next General Elections.

"We welcome the appointment of Narendra Modi... We have expressed our good wishes to Modi," Shiv Sena spokesperson Sanjay Raut told reporters.

He said party president Uddhav Thackeray, who is abroad, called up Modi and congratulated him.

"Modi is an efficient leader and popular among masses. Appointing him as the head of BJP's election campaign will help the NDA to oust the Congress-led UPA Government at the Centre," Raut said.

Meanwhile, BJP patriarch L. K Advani today made no mention of the appointment of Narendra Modi in his address for an event in which he broke his silence over his ill health that forced him to stay away from the party's go meet.

Advani, who had reservations on anointing Modi, a move considered just short of making him BJP's Prime Ministerial candidate, did not speak a word about any political matter or issues which were taken up at the party's national executive meeting in Goa.

In his 11-minute recorded address, Advani recalled his friendship with Pandit Sriram Dave in whose memory a lecture was organised here.

In his video conference address in Jaipur, Advani said he was having stomach upset for the last three days because of which he could not attend the party's go meet.

"This morning, I told Sadhvi Priti Priynvada in Jaipur on phone tendering my apology for not attending her event...For the last three consecutive days health was so indisposed...Due to stomach upset...Loose motions are frequent...This is the reason I could not go to attend our most important national executive meeting in Goa," he said in his speech in Hindi, recorded and sent from Delhi. # Coaches added to Indo-Pak Thar Express

JODHPUR, June 9:

Two additional coaches have been attached to the Thar Express that runs between India and Pakistan to meet the summer-holiday rush of passengers, a railway official said today.

This was done in view of the demand made by Pakistan considering the increase in the number of people from that country arriving here.

"The number of coaches in Thar Express has been raised from 7 to 9 for two trips on June 7 and 14," spokesperson of Jodhpur Division of the NWR, Gopal Sharma said.

The train with two extra coaches left with 503 passengers for Pakistan from Jodhpur's Bhagat Ki Kothi station on Friday.

Out of the 503 passengers, 368 were Muslims, 117 Hindus, two US nationals and remaining were children.

Against this, a whopping 678 Muslims and 102 Hindus reached Jodhpur from Pakistan this morning.

This is the highest number of the passengers coming from Pakistan this year. 410 passengers had come from Pakistan on June 9 last year and 700 on the next trip on June 16, highest in 2012, Sharma said.

"But despite this, Pakistani officials had not sent any requisition for additional coach," said Sharma, adding that these two weeks are crucial as the highest number of passengers board the train from Pakistan during this season.

A CID official said the increasing number of passengers was mainly due to summer vacations in both India and Pakistan.

"To make the advantage of this period, maximum Pakistani come to India with their family including children," he said.

Even though the train passes through the most arid and hot regions of the country, all the coaches of the train are general.

"We have a very taxing time while travelling in this train during sweltering summer with mercury hovering around 47-48 degrees. If there were air-conditioned coaches, those who can afford could have a comfortable journey," a passenger Mohammad Shakir said.

Asked about any proposal to add air-conditioned coaches, Sharma said there had been no move regarding this from either side. "Even this demand of 2 coaches was for general coaches," he said.

"The spurt in number during this period also delays the train from reaching Jodhpur from Munabao (Barmer) considering the custom clearance and security check," said a custom official, adding that the delay normally spans from 7-8 hours.

"Even on Sunday the arrival of the train at Jodhpur was 12 hours behind the schedule because of this," said a railway official. (PTI) department allowed the situation to assume such an alarming situation and did not upgrade the system during the past one year".

"Every year there is 10% growth in the electricity demand but the upgradation and augmentation of system is not being ensured to meet this demand", sources regretted, adding "the failure of the PDD to utilize Rs 550 crore financial assistance provided under the Restructured Accelerated Power Development and Reforms Programme (R-APDRP) clearly indicates that those at the helm of affairs are least bothered about augmentation of the system".

Meanwhile, the scheduled/unscheduled power curtailments in Jammu have crossed all the barriers with the department switching off the electricity for more than eight hours in the metered areas and more than 10 hours in the non-metered areas.

This has resulted into resentment particularly among those consumers whose connections have been metered. "Instead of putting its house in order the Power Development Department is only giving lame excuses for the prevailing crisis", some people told EXCELSIOR while criticizing the Department, adding "the department has made the life of children and aged person virtually hell".

"It is really astonishing that there are three Ministers from Jammu district in the Cabinet but none of them has come forward till date to vociferously highlight the crisis before the Government", they said, adding "they must keep in mind that people, who are forced to bear scorching heat without adequate electricity supply, have voted them to power. They must wake from the deep slumber and play role in getting the corrective measures initiated without wastage of any further time".

Those who are opposing a watered-down proposal for NCTC include Chief Ministers Mamata Banerjee (West Bengal), Nitish Kumar (Bihar), Jayalalithaa (Tamil Nadu), Narendra Modi (Gujarat), Raman Singh (Chhattisgarh), Shivraj Singh Chouhan (Madhya Pradesh) and Punjab Deputy Chief Minister Sukhbir Singh Badal.

Satananda Mishra had said.

Last year, the information accessed by PTI had revealed that former President Pratibha Patil had spent Rs 223 crore on her visits abroad during her five years which triggered a debate on expenditure over VIP visits.

The list of the Singh's visits shows maximum expenditure of Rs 26.94 crore was incurred on his seven-day long visit to Mexico and Brazil in 2012 to attend G20 Summit and Rio-20 Summit respectively.

This was followed by Rs 22.70 crore spent on air travel to Washington DC, USA and Brazil in 2010 where he had gone to attend the Nuclear Security Summit, BRIC Summit and IBSA Summit. (PTI)

Conditional on spot registration of yatris at 3 places in Jammu

Previously, only Jammu and Kashmir Bank had been registering Shri Amarnath pilgrims while during past couple of years, the SASB had also incorporated YES Bank, a private sector bank in the list of pilgrims' registration. Last year, some Cooperative Bank had also registered the yatris.

This year, the SASB has added State Bank of India (SBI), Punjab National Bank (PNB) and HDFC Bank, who have also been authorized to register the pilgrims for Shri Amarnath yatra.

All five banks including two in private sectors (YES Bank and HDFC) have designated branches countrywide with fixed quota for registration of the pilgrims from March 18. A maximum of 8.80 lakh pilgrims could be registered for 55 days long pilgrimage of Shri Amarnath ji shrine, located at a height of 13,500 feet from sea level in Anantnag district of the Kashmir Valley.

The Banks and the States have been allotted quota of registration.

The SASB has already decided to discontinue the process of on-line registration as the pilgrims had grossly misused the facility last year.

The Shrine Board has increased number of registration counters across the country from last year's 276 to 422 this year.

Congress, JMM to take final action on Government formation

RANCHI, June 9:

The Congress and the JMM today appeared to take a 'final' course of action after dilly dallying over the formation of an alternative Government ever since President's rule was imposed following the fall of the BJP-led government in Jharkhand on January 8.

"We are watching the situation and talks are going on within the party. I am in Delhi now," Jharkhand PCC President Sukhdeo Bhagat said over phone.

"You may call it second level," he said when asked at what level the party was discussing Jharkhand's current political situation.

Asked about the two JMM MLAs issuing resignation threats from house membership if the Congress failed to take a decision on Government formation before June 16, Bhagat said an alliance was not stitched on the basis of any condition, rather it was formed in the interest of the state.

JMM MLAs Vishnu Prasad Bhaiya and Paulus Surin on Friday issued threats of resigning from the House, wondering what the necessity was for an elected legislature when there was no elected Government.

Agreeing to Bhagat's contention that the two MLAs' warnings were issued in their individual capacity and not that of the party, JMM general secretary Suprio Bhattacharya, however, defended his MLAs, saying it resulted out of 'frustration'.

On June 16, the JMM has convened a meeting and the outcome of the party's decision on the prevailing political situation would be last and final, the JMM leader, authorised to speak on behalf of the party, said.

Asked if he was optimistic about a positive decision by the Congress during an ongoing meeting within the party, he said, "We can't dictate any political parties (as to) what they should do or decide."

Lending unconditional support to JMM and Congress if they joined hands for Government formation, senior RJD leader and MLA Janardhan Paswan said that the Congress must come forward to give a new alternative to the people who gave mandate for five years and "there are 18 more months for the next election".

"Whatever objections or bottlenecks the Congress may have, it can keep them out while finding an alternative," Paswan said, indicating that the Congress was reportedly averse to talking to any legislator facing corruption charges.

The Central rule was imposed on January 18 following JMM's withdrawal of support to the Arjun Munda government on January 8.

It took ten days for the imposition of President's rule and putting the 82-member House under suspended animation as both the Congress and the JMM failed to come together on certain unannounced issues.

The BJP, JDU, Jharkhand Vikas Morcha (Prajafront) and ASU Party have been demanding dissolution of the House to seek a new mandate. (PTI)

All-party meeting on Naxal issue today

NEW DELHI, June 9:

Prime Minister Dr Manmohan Singh has convened an all-party meeting here tomorrow to discuss ways to tackle Naxal menace in the backdrop of killing of Congress leaders in a Maoist attack in Chhattisgarh last month.

The meeting, also to be addressed by Home Minister Sushilkumar Shinde, is expected to work towards evolving a consensus on the strategy to deal with the challenge posed by Left Wing Extremism.

A decision in this regard was taken at the meeting of the UPA Coordination Committee last week at the Prime Minister's residence, which was attended by Congress President Sonia Gandhi, NCP President Sharad Pawar, National Conference chief Farooq

Abdullah and IUML chief E Ahamed.

The Prime Minister had told the Chief Minister's Conference on Internal Security on Friday that the Government's two-pronged anti-Maoist strategy of sustained operations and addressing development issues needed to be strengthened.

Naxals had ambushed a convoy of Congress leaders in Bastar district on May 25, killing 27 people including PCC chief Nand Kumar Patel, his son Dinesh, senior Congress leader Mahendra Karma and ex-MLA Uday Mudaliyar.

Parliamentary Affairs Minister Kamal Nath had termed the incident as "an attack on very foundations of democracy and entire political system" and said it called for an all-party meeting. (PTI)
