Cultivation of Shiv Ratri in Jammu

Profe(R) R.B. Gupta

Festival of Maha Shivratri will be celebrated in the Jammu region in accordance with the customs and traditions. A large number of people throng to the temples and shrines, including those in Udhampur, Reasi, Jammu, etc., during the month of Phalgun in the Hindu calendar, which is being celebrated on Monday 7th March this year. The festival is being celebrated in the entire country. It is a popular festival, where devotees offer worship to Lord Shiva in the form of black stone images. The J&K Government has declared this festival as a Government holiday. This celebration is in accordance with the J&K Constitution, yet there are many complaints regarding the issue of religious freedom and religious equality. The celebration of this festival provides an opportunity to propagate the Hindu religion and to spread the message of Lord Shiva to the common masses. It is a festival dedicated to the moon, and devotees take this occasion to offer worship to Lord Shiva. This celebration is known for its simplicity and spirituality, and it is a day of fasting for devotees. The devotees offer worship to Lord Shiva in temples and homes, and they also offer special prayers for the well-being of their families and friends.

Tragedy of Kashmir is a part of Indian history

Capt Tarsem Mohiudeen, who gave the supreme sacrifice for the country in the J&K conflict, a brave son of Jammu & Kashmir, who sacrificed his life in the line of duty, is remembered with pride. Despite the fact that he was a member of the Indian armed forces, he was a native of Jammu & Kashmir. The government of J&K has declared this day as a public holiday in the state to honor the memory of Tarsem Mohiudeen. The government has made efforts to honor his contributions and sacrifice.

Problems of women

Women are facing various problems in the Jammu region, including lack of facilities, opportunities, and rights. The government needs to take steps to address these issues and provide equal opportunities to women. Women need to be empowered and given equal rights to participate in decision-making processes. The government should also work towards ensuring that women have access to education and healthcare.

Women's Day

International Women's Day is celebrated on March 8th every year to mark the progress made by women in their struggle for rights, equality, development, and peace. The day is a celebration of women's achievements and a call to continue fighting for gender equality. Women's Day is an opportunity to highlight the challenges that women face and to accelerate action to achieve gender parity.

Women's Day celebration in Jammu

The government of Jammu & Kashmir has organized a special event to mark Women's Day. The event was attended by various officials and representatives of different organizations. The event was held to promote women's rights and to celebrate the achievements of women in various fields.

Ration supply

We fail to understand why there is no regular and adequate supply of ration in the Jammu region. The government is not serious about it and the problems are being ignored by the local administration. The Act in the State has made the supply position critical. The government needs to take necessary steps to ensure that ration is available to the people at all times. The Act has not been implemented effectively in the State. The government should ensure that people have access to quota of free grains.
