Yudhvir slams oppn for creating controversy over Agnipath

Excelsior Correspondent

JAMMU, June 17: Yudhvir Sethi, J&K BJP vice president accused the opposition parties of creating a controversy over the Centre's Agnipath scheme for short-term recruitment in the defence forces by provoking people.

Interacting with people of East Constituency to disseminate information about the Agnipath scheme, Sethi said that there is no controversy in the scheme, but a controversy is being created by the opposition, which has nothing else to do. Since the opposition has nothing else to do, it is stoking a controversy over the scheme even before its implementation has started, he added.

The senior BJP leader said the Army has never been a large-scale provider of jobs. "People are being told wrong things and being provoked. Where is the controversy when the scheme is yet to get started? he added.

"People get jobs in Army and other forces after fulfilling certain conditions, where-
