All institutions will be freed from control of RSS if Cong comes to power : Rahul

HYDERABAD, Oct 31:

Congress MP Rahul Gandhi on Monday assured that all institutions Judiciary, Bureaucracy and Media, which are under attack in the country, would be freed from the control of the RSS when the party comes back to power at the Centre.

Interacting with the media persons during the ongoing Bharat Jodo Yatra at Kothur in Ranga Reddy district on the outskirts of the city, he said that lots of damage has been done to the institution framework of our country. A certain independence will be maintained in these institutions, he said. Massive concentration of power and crony capitalism are eliminating the competitions and creating monopoly in all industries, he said the small and medium businesses have been affected due to such crony capitalism at both centre and state. We will ensure that the business environment will be fair.

Yatra is the powerful way of demonstrating the feeling that India has inside, India doesn't believe the hatred and violence that BJP and RSS are allegedly spreading, the Wayanad MP said that OBC census is the concern for Indian National Congress and has carried out the idea, it has to be made public for people need to understand the makeup India's population.

He expressed concern that the media don't question BJP and RSS, about their internal elections. Answering questions, Rahul Gandhi clarified that there is no question of any alliance between BRS (Bharat Rashtia Samithi) and Congress. If Chief Minister K Chandrashekar Rao believes that he is running an international party also, we have no problem, let him contest in USA, China and UK elections, he said.

The fight in India, today is between two ideologies -- one is seeking to divide the nation and other is to unite the nation, Gandhi said the Congress feels it is very important that the opposition works together harmoniously to defeat the ideology of RSS and BJP.

Bharat Jodo Yatra is to create a different ideology from the BJP, it's a long journey, he said.

I had the idea of doing a yatra when I was 25, where I was not even entered into politics. This journey is a great experience for learning a lot, the former Congress President said. (UNI)

Rozgar mela cruel joke with unemployed youth : Dimple

Excelsior Correspondent

JAMMU, Oct 31: Sunil Dimple, president, Mission Statehood Jammu and Kashmir criticized the Prime Minister for not doing anything concrete in solving the growing unemployment problem.

Talking to reporters here, today, Dimple termed the Rozgar Mela of Government a cruel joke with youth and said the PM distributed three thousand appointment letters in the Mela while the number of educated youth in J&K is lakhs.

Dimple alleged that Prime Minister spoke no words for the PM package, reserved category employees who have migrated to Jammu and remained mum on the release of their salaries.

Dimple informed PM that after abrogation of Article 370, 35-A, the number of unemployed youth has touched many lakhs in J&K.

He also expressed concern over employment scams in J&K and wanted to know when the aspirants for various Government jobs who cleared these examinations with their hard work will get justice.

Shiv Sena starts campaign to protect Jammu

Excelsior Correspondent

JAMMU, Oct 31: Shiv Sena Jammu and Kashmir unit today launched a campaign "Jammu Bachana Hai, Barbad Karne Walo Ko Sabak Sikhana Hai" with a pledge to restore Jammu's prosperity, cultural identity and rights.

The Shiv Sainiks led by president Manish Sahni gathered at Press Club Jammu and held strong protest by holding placards regarding treachery and injustice being done with Jammu and announced that they will go door to door to make the public aware about the discrimination with Jammu region.

Sahni said that the interests of Jammu are being severely violated during the rule of those who seek public support on the voice of discrimination from Jammu division and claim that the Chief Minister will be from Jammu. "Outsiders have been placed on all important posts including the Lieutenant Governor of Jammu and Kashmir, Advisors and officials," he alleged.

"Due to the increase in the number of non-local people in Jammu division day by day, the incidents of crime and theft have started rising," he said.
